FIGHTING DICK AND SAMMY HERE

Change Plans and May Meet Cyclone Thompson Instead of Decker.

Fighting Dick Hyland and Manager Sammy McClinton arrived in Salt Lake yesterday from the coast and are here on business that promises that there will be something doing in "the game of biff" before many days. Hyland was matched to meet Decker at Ogden on Nov. 2, but as soon as McClinton arrived in the city he began to look about for a better card. Decker is practically unknown hereabouts and McClinton suggested to Manager Grant that Cyclone Thompson be substituted. A wire was sent to Thompson yesterday and it is thought he will accept. Thompson is the man who got a decision over Hyland in Los Angeles some time back and was matched to fight Hyland in San Francisco two weeks ago, but the match was called off because Thompson caught a bad cold two weeks before the fight. McClinton saw Thompson while going through Los Angeles on his way to Salt Lake and he said he would be willing to go to Ogden and fight it out.

Hyland Gets a Lemon.
It will be remembered that there was a howl set up over the decision against Hyland in the Los Angeles fight, when many of Hyland's friends claimed he had been robbed. McClinton said yesterday that the referee was "Ole Eddie" Robinson, and that Robinson had handed him a lemon. It is also possible that the date of the contest will be set after election instead of Nov. 2. Sammy, who only looks for the big round dollars, thinks it will be impossible to get up interest in the scrap with so much politics on hand.

UNKNOWN SHOWS UP AT U.

Maddock Shifts His Team to Give Players All Around Experience.

In the practice yesterday afternoon Coach Maddock of the University football team shifted all the players into positions that they had never played in before. The center men were put in the back field and the backs in their places. Maddock's idea in doing this is to teach the line men the work that is expected of the back field and to show him what little chance there is for loafing as compared with a line position. Many amusing combinations were formed by the shifting of the men. Bennion played center, and Varley, the center, was found at quarter. Olsen and Bryant held down halves, and Barton, the giant guard, was at fullback.

An unknown, who weighs 250 pounds and who has a powerful build, was seen talking to Captain Bennion and Coach Maddock yesterday. He entered school while the team was away, and it is said that he will be out in a suit for practice in a few days.

COMMITTEE AT IT AGAIN

Men Who Run Football to Do Some More Monkeying With the Game.

New York, Oct. 25.—There will be a meeting of the Intercollegiate Football Rules committee tomorrow night in New York at the Murray Hill hotel. It is held in answer to the request emanating from the conference of football officials held at the Murray Hill two weeks ago for the purpose of interpreting the code and settling of additional questions have arisen since that meeting, calling for a decision. All these will be decided and finally settled at this meeting. Most of them are of minor importance, but the question of the meaning of the rule prohibiting the drawing back of men from the line to carry the ball or interfere is far-reaching in its significance. This will be among the matters taken up. It is expected that with the exception of the western members there will be a full attendance of the committee members.

HAS NOT MADE BID.

McCarey, However, Would Like Gans-Nelson Go.

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—Thomas McCarey, manager of the Pacific Athletic club of Los Angeles, when asked today if he would give a purse of $30,000 for a match for the lightweight championship between Joe Gans and Battling Nelson, replied that he would if the fight could be pulled off next May, during Shriners' week, in this city. He stated, however, that he had made no proposition of this nature to the fighters and would not do so.

CAMPBELL IS JUBILANT.

Old Times Come Back and Strengthen Aggies.

(Special to The Herald.)
Logan, Oct. 25.—The Aggies have made arrangements to play the All-Hawaii team next Saturday and the Ogden High school the following Saturday. Coach Campbell is jubilant over the prospect of having Jamison, the big tackle, Captain John Nelson and Billy Frew, the speedy halfback, all back in the line, which will give him almost if not quite the best team he has ever had.

ATTELL-DECORSEY NEXT.

Fighters to Fight at San Diego on Nov. 16.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 25.—Articles have been signed for a match between Abe Attell and Billy Decorsey, to take place Nov. 16 before the National Athletic club. They are to weigh in at 124 pounds at 8 o'clock on the day of the match.

NEW BASEBALL HISTORY

Hans Wagner, the big Pittsburgh shortstop, who for years has been one of the heaviest hitters and one of the most picturesque ball players on the diamond, led the National league hitters this season with an average of .340. Last year he was second on the list to "Cy" Seymour, batting for .337. This year Seymour dropped to fourteenth position in the standing, his figures falling from .384 in 1904 to .293 this year.

McGinn of the Giants was disciplined eight times by the umpires this season. Bresnahan was penalized six times, and McGinnity led the team with eleven putouts. Statistics show that the Giants have been put out of the grounds thirty-nine times this season, and in nine of the instances McGraw was the offender.

During the season of 1905 there were 1,214 two-baggers, 520 three-baggers and 147 home runs made in the American league. Cleveland led in two-base hits, with 223; New York in three-baggers, with 85, and the Athletics in home runs, with 121.

The first club to win over 100 games in a season was the Boston Nationals, in 1892. This record stood until 1898, when Boston again accomplished the trick.

Last year the Chicago Nationals went to bat 4,920 times and made 1,314 hits for a batting average of .267. The Americans went to bat 4,734 times and hit safely 1,108 times, for a batting average of .234.

This looks like the strongest team that could be collected from the big leagues: Walsh, Brown, White and Waddell, pitchers; Kling and Sullivan, catchers; Chase, first base; Lajoie, second base; Wagner, shortstop; Steinfeldt, third base; Keeler, right field; Stone, left field; Lumley, center field, and Turner as utility man.

Hal Chase showed marked improvement over his playing of last season both in the field and at the bat. In the season of 1904 he batted for .249 and in the season just closed his average was .323.

Eason and Lush were the only twirlers in the big leagues to shut out their opponents without a hit or run during the season of 1905.

Pfeister of the Cubs made the remarkable record last year of fanning Tim Lincecum, the heavy hitting Brooklyn fielder, eight times straight.

The biggest score in the big league was the 19 to 0 game in which the Cubs beat the Giants.

The Chicago Nationals took the lead on the 2d of June and were never headed, but that time on the Americans did not win their pennant until the final week of the season.

Pitcher Cy Young has a record of giving but thirty bases on balls in thirty-one games.

During the season of 1887 Detroit took part in more games than any team in the country, playing 188 games.

One of the freak games of the American league was when the Sox defeated the Yankees at New York on one hit, while the Highlanders made eight.

Edwell of the White Sox played every position on the team, including the catching of one game and the pitching of one.

EX-CHAMPS MAY FIGHT AGAIN

Outcome of Philadelphia Battle Between Corbett and McGovern Uncertain.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Although it was a bloody battle and a set-to, Corbett, who had met Young Corbett, the lad from Denver, the Terrible Terry McGovern, here the other night—still there remains in the minds of local fight fans a grave doubt as to which of the two laus is the better man. The discussion of the merits of the fighters may result in a return match, if it does, the boys will draw fairly as large a crowd as the one just closed.

While it is the general opinion that both the little ring artists have gone back very much, everyone concedes that they are an evenly matched pair.

Tom Sharkey seems to lean in favor of the westerner and says that it was too bad that he was butted so flagrantly by Terry.

Thinks Terry the Lad.
Sam Harris thinks that Terry's the boy engaged in a set-to with Corbett, who he believed that Terry can administer a dream draught to Corbett in less than ten rounds. On the other hand, Harry Tunstall, who does the book money that Corbett is the boy who can deliver the goods and lambast Terry just to his liking, says that the opportunity is again presented to him.

Tim Hurst is more guarded in his opinion. He says that in the battle Terry had the better of the going, but that one never can tell.

Meanwhile Terry and Corbett have appeared the best of friends since the getting together. Each of them seems to have a "don't care if I do" feeling when talked to regarding another bout. Of the two, however, Corbett seems to be a little more ready to go into action again.

STEINER PLAYS IN FINALS

Wins His Match on the Nineteenth Hole in the Championship Tourney.

George A. Steiner will play for the golf championship of the state and will meet the winner of the McGurrin-Thompson match, which is to be played within the next week at the Country club. Steiner won from William Igleheart yesterday in semi-finals at Job Henson's house, after a round that was fought all the way through and had to be finished in the moonlight. Steiner was out of his game in the first round and was three down at the ninth. Then he rallied, took the next three holes, had a half at the thirteenth, won the fourteenth, and lost the fifteenth, which left the game all square. The next three holes were halved, and Steiner got a fairly good drive, while his opponent topped and went into the grass on the ditch, requiring a short mashie shot out. Steiner got a beautiful brassie; his opponent was short, but recovered well on a long iron. The approaches were about alike; both approach puts were short, but with one good putt Steiner sunk the ball on the next stroke and won the match.

LIPTON HAS HOPES.

New York, Oct. 25.—At a dinner tonight given in his honor by the Brooklyn Athletic club, Sir Thomas Lipton made formal announcement of what he intended to do toward making another effort to "lift" the cup. He declared that he "hoped" he might be privileged to challenge for the international trophy, and intimated that he would issue a challenge next year for a race possibly in 1908 or 1909.

FIGHTER REACHES OGDEN.

(Special to The Herald.)

Ogden, Oct. 25.—Phil Knight, a lightweight pugilist from Leavenworth, Kan., arrived in Ogden yesterday for the purpose of arranging a match with the winner of the Hyland-Decker bout scheduled to be pulled off here Nov. 2. Knight says that he is willing to fight any one at 128 pounds.

FAST AUTOS TO RACE IN ORDA

American Cup Cars in Vanderbilt Race Will Be Used at Ormond Meet.

New York, Oct. 25.—There has been much speculation since the Vanderbilt cup race as to the future use of the seventeen American cars built for that event. These, constructed at an average cost of $20,000, would represent an outlay of $340,000, and it was not to be supposed that they would be immediately consigned to the junk heap because of failure to make the American team or to win the cup.

It has been learned that a majority of these high-speed machines will be improved where weakness was developed in practice for the Long Island speed carnival on the beach at Ormond and Daytona, Fla. Among the cars to be tuned up for the southern tournament will be the three Thomas flyers that were practically taken from the shops at Buffalo to the Vanderbilt circuit without any intermediate testing.

Other Fast Machines.

The three Frayer-Miller cars likewise, it is declared, will be prepared for the same event, while the twelve-cylinder Maxwell that was found overweight for the Vanderbilt will be found in the Florida lists, along with the eight-cylinder machine of the same make. Walter Christie's 110 horse-power wonder that was damaged in practice for the Long Island contest will be another southern contender.

Whether the duplicate "50" Locomobiles will be sent south in January has not yet been determined, but it is probable that both the Oldsmobile and Pope-Toledo cup cars will be there. The youthful construction of the E. L. M. machine, which was contestants on the beach, while the Haynes "50" touring car that qualified for the American team is said to be a certain starter. The disposition of the Matheson and Apperson cars has not yet been determined.

New Steam Marvel.

The net results will be a better lot of American cars in the southern tournament than ever before. In addition to those named, F. E. Stanley has under construction another steam marvel, which he expects to eclipse the record of 23.1-seconds for one mile by a thirty horse-power Stanley steamster last winter. From Cleveland comes news that the White brothers will re-enter the racing field with a steam machine with which they hope to win the Stanley contest. No matter what the outcome of the contest, the White brothers will be competitors in the south. Wagner, if he returns, will bring back the eight-cylinder machine with which he won the Vanderbilt cup. George Mackenmoget traveled two miles in 58.4 seconds last winter, but rebuilt for still higher speed. He expects to win the Vanderbilt cup with a machine that he has especially built for beach racing. The entry of several Fiat and Italia cars is said to be assured, while the new Mercedes Brown is likely to start the "120" Mercedes he purchased from W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

DOES NOT SAVE SON.

New York, Oct. 25.—Walter Camp, Jr., is the first victim of the new football rules, which his father helped to frame. His collar bone was broken last week in a game between the Westminster school of St. Simsbury and the Holyoke High school.

Young Camp, who had been playing halfback, was the most valuable punter of the school, and his injury will prevent him playing the rest of the season. When Camp was hurt he continued playing, but he was soon called from the game.

Mrs. Camp and Captain Morse of Yale, who were present at the time of the accident, returned to this city, and Morse has rejoined the Yale squad. He is recovering from his recent illness.

WONDERFUL KANSAS.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

The Kansas agriculturist put his elbows back on the rail fence and yawned heavily.

"Yep," he said, "we've overdone it a little with our big corn crops. There's good money in it, but it's kind of 'wearin' on the nerves. I've seen 'em get 'em 'tired o' watchin' the stalks grow an' give 'em all up to once. But Job's done well in his new business."

"What's he doing?" inquired the stranger from the east.

The tall Kansan yawned again.

ABSENT MINDED.

(Pacific Monthly.)

Somebody named person I ever saw. Smith—What has he been doing now? Smythe—Why, he went home the other evening and kissed his wife.

Smith—But I don't see.

Smythe—Why, man, they've been married five years.
